We're as particular about service as we are about the quality of our non-ferrous metal.

In fact, there are quite a few things we don't compromise on. The first is quality. The specialist processing machinery we use is able to recover all types of non-ferrous metal, which we process into high quality grades to create the best possible non-ferrous metal products.

EMR collects, processes and recycles over 600,000 tonnes of non-ferrous metals every year, so we have a lot of experience in getting things right. We never compromise on service, we recognise that our success as a metal recycling company stems from building long term valued relationships with our customers and suppliers.

Whether you're a factory, merchant, demolition contractor, local authority or a waste management company looking for a recycling solution, or a consumer looking for a furnace ready grade, EMR is here to help. We have operations at over 130 locations worldwide and operate sales offices in all of the major international markets for our metals, allowing us to provide unequalled service and competitive prices.

RECYCLING TO CREATE RESOURCE

You'll be given one main point of contact to simplify the process and we'll make sure we get your materials from you or to you on time, at market price.

Last but definitely not least, we never compromise when it comes to the environment. All of our facilities operate to the highest standards, we have strong ethics in our procurement and supply of metal, and we operate modern, efficient plant and machinery to minimise our energy needs and emissions.
